The Exhibitor shall state the "total value" of all the exhibited goods (products, materials, machinery and equipment), including the ones that are the property of third parties, by duly compiling in all its parts the Insurance Form (Form A1 available on-line), which concisely reports overleaf the general policy conditions. Should this statement not be submitted, the insured amount is to be meant as lent up to a maximum of € 15.500.00 as automatically provided for by the coverage. In the event that the Exhibitor is a Public Body, a Consortium, or the owner of a collective stand, the total value of goods displayed in the Exhibition by every single Company and/or Participant present in the stand will have to be clearly stated. Fiere di Parma anyway reserves the rights to, either directly or through its Broker, verify that the information given in the statement is correct.

Only for Public Bodies, Consortia, etc. the capital specified above is meant as proportionally divided according to the number of associates and/or participants in the Exhibition.

The Exhibitor is in any case compelled to have fulfilled the appropriate "all risks" insurance for goods of any and every nature brought into the Exhibition, owned by the Exhibitor himself or by third parties, for capitals exceeding the amount of € 15.500.00, with the declaration that he shall raise no claims for compensation from Fiere di Parma, contractors or other exhibitors, as stated by Art. 1916 C.C. Said contract must be attached to the Insurance Form so that Fiere di Parma, also by means of their Broker, will be able to verify its correctness and, if necessary, will automatically activate the appropriate "all risk" coverage charging the Exhibitor will all relevant costs.

As an alternative to what stated above, the Exhibitor can apply to have the capitals exceeding € 15,500.00 insured, by compiling the relevant section of Form A1; exceeding capitals will follow the rates listed in Form A1. Fiere di Parma will hence charge the relevant premium to the Exhibitor. Fiere di Parma, through its Broker, shall then deliver to the Exhibitor the Insurance Certificate confirming that the supplemental insurance was actually paid for.

POLICY FOR THIRD-PARTY CIVIL LIABILITY

Against any damage caused to third parties and their property for which the Exhibitor might be responsible under the provisions of the Civil Code.

In case of disappeared goods or materials, the claim for compensation shall be accompanied by the original statement presented to the Police authorities and or to the Carabinieri. The value declaration, the different types of insurance coverage and others points mentioned in this Article may be subject to review by the Organizer who agrees to promptly notify the Exhibitor any changes.
